Mayor Bettencourt Touts Real Time Bulletin Board

Mayor Edward A. Bettencourt, Jr. announced a new feature of the city's website which allows residents to access time sensitive information relative to emergencies, city-sponsored events and other matters of community interest.

The bulletin board allows authorized employees from various city departments to post real time messages, including remotely from a phone, tablet, desktop computer, or other device. Bulletin board subjects could range from weather-related cancellations to public meeting reminders, and last-minute changes to scheduled city events.

"We continue to leverage technology to streamline the way city government operates and make it more efficient for taxpayers," Mayor Bettencourt said. "Peabody residents and other visitors to our official website should have access to the same 21st century technology that they utilize in other areas of their lives."

The public can access the bulletin board by visiting the city's website, www.peabody-ma.gov, and clicking on the "Timely Topics" tab at the top of the home page.
